

Dr. Kalpna Bhandari
Assistant Professor, Botany
Phone: +91-9915831101
Email: kalpna.bhandari@gmail.com

An alumna of Panjab University, Chandigarh, she boasts more than eight years of teaching experience and a profound research background in various fields, including Research Methodology, Biochemistry, Environmental Biology, Molecular Biology, and Bioinformatics, all centered around legumes. Her substantial body of work has been featured in over 30 publications in peer-reviewed, SCOPUS-indexed, UGC-listed international journals. In recognition of her contributions, she has received a Young Scientist Award, an award at an International conference hosted by IMTECH, and two National conference awards.

Her impressive research acumen has been cultivated under the expert guidance of her mentor, Prof. (Dr.) Harsh Nayyar, a distinguished figure acknowledged as one of the world's top 2% Scientists according to Stanford University's Database. Furthermore, this accomplished researcher has established International collaborations with esteemed institutions such as the University of Western Australia, the University of Mississippi(USA), World Vegetable centre, Taiwan, ICARDA, Morocco and ICRISAT. She has also fostered National partnerships with institutions like PAU Ludhiana, , CUP, Central University of Punjab, and CSK Agriculture University.