REPORT ON ONE WEEK ADD-ON COURSE IN (PYTHON PROGRAMMING)

School of Computer Applications in NSCBM Govt. College Hamirpur organized an Add-On Course in Python programming from 14-05-2024 to 20-05-2024 for students of BCA, B.Sc Computer science and PGDCA. The session, led by Prof. Lavli Rana and supported by faculty members: Prof. Shilpa Bajaj, Prof. Pankaj Kumar, Prof. Madhuri Gupta and Prof. Shilpa Soni, aimed to help BCA students explore potential career paths. Dr. Pushpender from NIT Hamirpur served as the resource person for the session, offering practical advice and insights about the course. This event was a great opportunity for students to gain clarity about Python language and to feel more confident so that they can get expertise in this language

Day 1 (May 14, 2024):

TOPICS DISCUSSED:

- 1. Introduction of python
- 2. Character set
- 3. Variables
- 4. Data types
- 5. Keywords

On the very first day of workshop, a brief introduction of resource person was given by Prof Madhuri Gupta to the students. After that , the resource person Dr. Pushpender started the session on Python. He discussed about the introduction of Python, character set, variables, data types, keywords, types of operators and type conversion.

Practical work

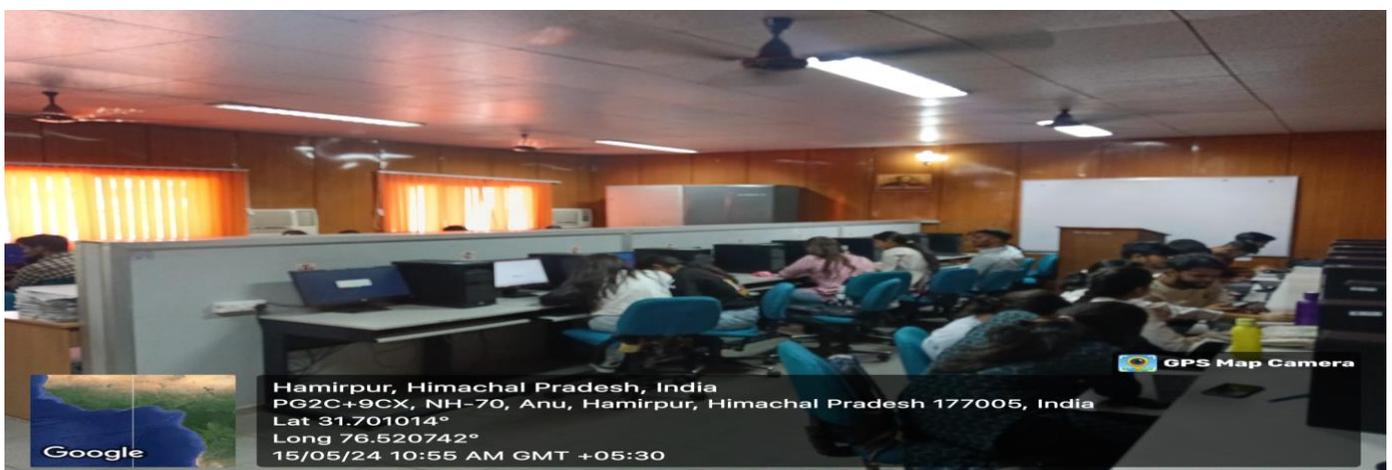

After that on the same day practical session was conducted in which students' explored Python basics, including its character set, variables, data types, and keywords. They practiced declaring variables and using different data types, reinforcing their understanding of Python syntax and functionality. Through hands-on exercises, students gained practical experience in writing Python programs.

DAY 2 (May 15, 2024):

Implementation of practicals that were discussed by the resource person. They practiced operators of python on computer and implemented some programmes listed below.

1. WAP to check if number entered by user is odd or even.
2. WAP to find greatest of three numbers entered by user.

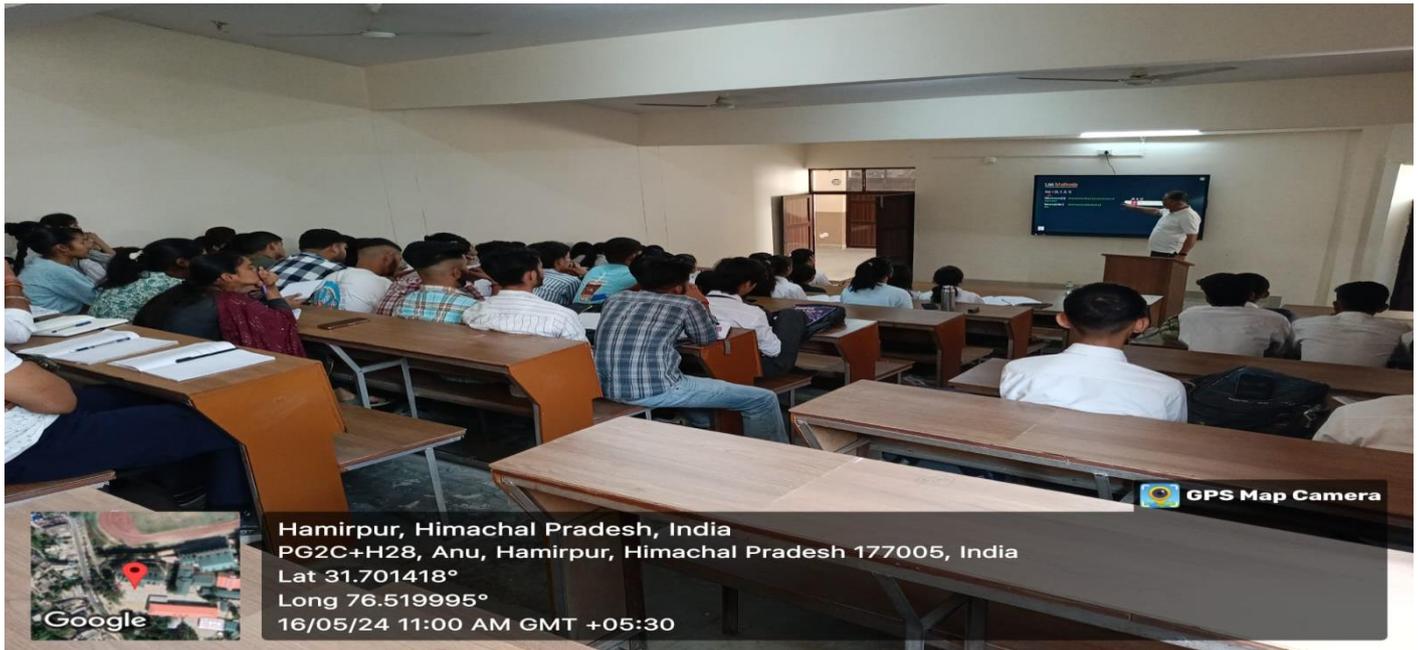

Day 3 (May 16, 2024):

Topics Covered

1. Operators
2. Conditional statements

He discussed about basic operations like concatenation ,indexing , slicing on strings. He also discussed about the contention of operators in python. Students learned about conditional statements like if, if else and lists.

Day 4 (May 17, 2024): Implementation of Practicals

1. WAP to check if a number entered by the user is odd or even.
2. WAP to find the greatest of 3 numbers entered by the user.

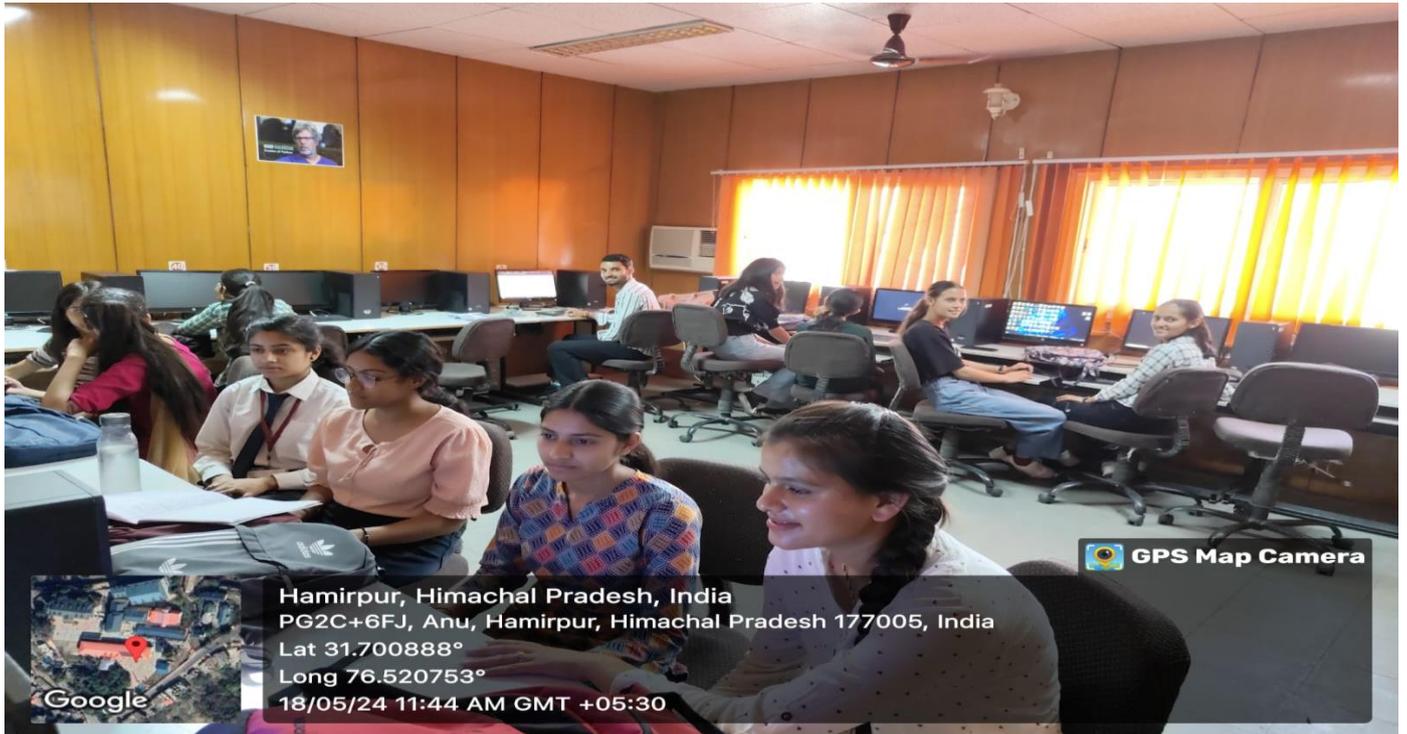

Day 5 (May 18, 2024):

Topics covered

1. Loops
2. Functions

On this day, loops in python were discussed. In this session students learned about while loop, do –while loop, break and continue statements, for loop, range, pass statement functions and recursion was discussed.

Day 6 (May 19, 2024): Sunday

Day7 (May 20, 2024):

Topics Discussed

1. Objective test conducted

This was the last day of workshop. On this day an objective type test was conducted by the resource person. This test contained 50 questions in the form of MCQ'S. Test was taken on google form and students give their test on that form. The time duration of the test was 1 hour. Students give their test with great enthusiasm. They were keen to get their certificates on one week workshop.

CONCLUSION:

The one-week workshop on Python programming, part of the ADD on course, was successfully completed. The resource person shared his extensive knowledge and expertise in Python, captivating the students' interest and enthusiasm. Throughout the workshop, students were engaged in a series of interactive sessions and hands-on exercises, which significantly enhanced their understanding of Python. The comprehensive coverage of Python basics, including character sets, variables, data types, and keywords, equipped the students with essential programming skills. By the end of the workshop, students had gained substantial knowledge and practical experience, which will undoubtedly help them thrive in the competitive world of programming. This immersive learning experience has prepared them to tackle complex programming challenges and stay ahead in their careers.
